Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors American Academy of Physician Associates, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of American Academy of Physician Associates, Inc. and Affiliate (collectively, the Organization), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements (collectively, the financial statements).

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Organization and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are issued or available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and, therefore, is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 1. Nature of Activities and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of activities: The American Academy of Physician Associates, Inc. (the Academy) was incorporated in 1968 as a national professional association that represents all physician associates (PAs) across all medical and surgical specialties in the United States. The mission of the Academy is to ensure the professional growth, personal excellence, recognition of PAs and to support their efforts to enable them to improve the quality, accessibility and cost-effectiveness of patient-centered health care.

American Academy of Physician Associates Political Action Committee (PAC) allows the individual PA to share in the opportunity to support federal candidates who have demonstrated their belief and understanding of the principles to which the profession is dedicated. The Academy and the PAC are collectively referred to as the Organization.

A summary of the Organization's significant accounting policies follows:

Principles of consolidation: The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Academy and the PAC. Significant inter-entity accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Basis of presentation: The consolidated financial statements presentation follows the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC). As required by the Not-for-Profit Entities Topic of the FASB ASC, the Organization is required to report information regarding its consolidated financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: net assets without donor restrictions and net assets with donor restrictions.

Without donor restrictions: Net assets without donor restrictions represent net assets not restricted by donors for a specific purpose, even though their use may be limited in other respects, such as by board designation.

With donor restrictions: Net assets with donor restrictions are composed of grants the Academy has received and PAC contributions that are restricted for a specific purpose or time period. When the restriction has been satisfied, net assets with donor restrictions are released to net assets without donor restrictions. See Note 6 for further details regarding net assets with donor restrictions.

Cash and cash equivalents: For consolidated financial statements purposes, the Organization considers cash equivalents to be all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or fewer when purchased, other than those held as part of the Organization's investment portfolio.

Investments: Investments are reflected at fair value. To adjust the carrying value of these investments, the change in fair value is recorded as a component of investment gain in the consolidated statements of activities.

Financial risk: The Academy maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Academy has not experienced any such loss in the past and does not believe it is exposed to any significant financial risk on these balances.

The Academy invests funds in professionally managed portfolios that are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit and market value risk. Due to the level of risk associated with such investments and the level of uncertainty related to changes in the value of such investments, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risks in the near term would materially affect investment balances and the amount reported in the consolidated financial statements. As a result, investment balances reported in the accompanying consolidated financial statements may not be reflective of the portfolio's value during subsequent periods.

Allowance for credit losses: The measurement of expected credit losses under the current expected credit loss (CECL) methodology is applicable to financial assets measured at amortized cost, which include billed and unbilled receivables as well as contract assets. An allowance for credit losses under the CECL methodology is determined using the loss-rate approach and measured on a collective (pool) basis when similar risk characteristics exist. Where financial instruments do not share risk characteristics, they are evaluated on an individual basis. The CECL allowance is based on relevant available information, from internal and external sources, relating to past events, current conditions and reasonable and supportable forecasts. Management has not recorded an allowance at December 31, 2024 and 2023, as any potentially uncollectible amounts are deemed de minimis.

Property and equipment: Acquisitions of furniture and equipment, computer equipment and software greater than $2,500 are recorded at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over their respective useful lives, ranging from three to 10 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight-line method over the shorter of the lease term or estimated useful life of the asset.

The Academy accounts for the subsequent measurement of certain long-lived assets in accordance with subsections of the FASB ASC Topic 360, Property, Plant and Equipment that address Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. The accounting standard requires that property, plant and equipment and certain identifiable intangible assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Assets to be disposed of are reportable at the lower of carrying amount or fair value, less costs to sell. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, there were no long-lived assets that were impaired.

Leases: The Academy determines if an arrangement is or contains a lease at inception, which is the date on which the terms of the contract are agreed to, and the agreement creates enforceable rights and obligations. Under Topic 842, a contract is or contains a lease when: (i) explicitly or implicitly identified assets have been deployed in the contract and (ii) the customer obtains substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of that underlying asset and directs how and for what purpose the asset is used during the term of the contract. The Academy also considers whether its service agreements include the right to control the use of an asset.

The Academy made an accounting policy election under Topic 842 not to recognize right-of-use (ROU) assets and lease liabilities for leases with a term of 12 months or less. For all other leases, the Academy recognizes ROU assets and lease liabilities based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term at the commencement date of the lease (or January 1, 2022, for existing leases upon the adoption of Topic 842). The ROU assets also include any initial direct costs incurred and lease payments made at or before the commencement date and are reduced by any lease incentives.

The Academy's leases may include a nonlease component representing additional services transferred to the Academy, such as common area maintenance for real estate. The Academy made an accounting policy election to account for each separate lease component and the nonlease components associated with that lease component as a single lease component. Nonlease components that are variable in nature are recorded in variable lease expense in the period incurred.

Note 1. Nature of Activities and Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

A lessee that is not a public business entity is permitted to use a risk-free discount rate for its leases, determined using a period comparable with that of the lease term, as an accounting policy election for all leases. In order to ease the accounting burden of determining incremental borrowing rates under ASC 842, the Academy has made this accounting policy election for all leases. The risk-free discount rates were obtained using U.S. Treasury securities as posted on the Federal Reserve website.

Revenue recognition: The Academy's activities are primarily supported through dues, registration and exhibit fees, royalties, continuing education, and product theatre. Prices charged to customers are specific to distinct performance obligations and do not consist of multiple transactions. Economic factors are driven by consumer confidence, employment, inflation and other world events that impact the timing and level of cash received and revenue recognized by the Academy. Periods of economic downturn resulting from any of the above factors may result in declines of recognized future revenue of the Academy.

Dues are recognized as revenue ratably over the membership period. All member benefits are considered one performance obligation and revenue is recognized ratably over the membership period as the delivery of the member benefit is provided. Student memberships expire four months after graduation; all other Academy membership types expire 12 to 24 months from the join date.

Registration and exhibit fees related to the conferences and product theatre revenues are recognized over the period of time the events occur. Amounts received in advance are recorded as deferred revenue.

Royalties are earned by the Academy for granting the use of its name to third parties that market services to Academy members. Revenues from these activities are recorded at the point in time when performance obligations are met.

Continuing education fees are recognized at the point in time that the individual takes the examination.

Contributions: Contributions are recognized as support when promised unconditionally and are recorded net of any current-year allowance or discount activity. The Organization reports gifts of cash and other assets as net assets with donor restrictions if they are received or promised with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets to the Organization's programs, or to a future year. The Academy considers contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions expire (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends, or purpose restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor-restriction is accomplished) in the reporting period in which the revenue is recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the consolidated statements of activities as net assets released from donor restrictions.

The Academy has determined that revenue received from private grants is typically considered to be a conditional contribution and, in that situation, is recorded as refundable advance because the agreement stipulates both a right of return of funds in the event of nonperformance in addition to specific outcomes and measurable barriers that the Academy must achieve specifically through its scientific and educational activities. These activities further the education of physicians and healthcare providers, patients and the general public, to enhance their ability to care for patients and is recognized as costs are incurred. At December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Academy has received $757,923 and $779,298, respectively, in funding for specific scientific and educational activities which is yet to be recognized.

Note 1. Nature of Activities and Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Contract balances: The timing of revenue recognition may not align with the right to invoice. The Academy records accounts receivable when it has the unconditional right to issue an invoice and receive payments, regardless of whether revenue has been recognized. If revenue has not yet been recognized, a contract liability (deferred revenue) also is recorded. If revenue is recognized in advance of the right to invoice, a contract asset (unbilled receivable) is recorded. Opening and ending balances relating to exchange transactions, were as follows:

|                     | Balance    | Balance      | Balance      |
|---------------------|------------|--------------|--------------|
|                     | January 1, | December 31, | December 31, |

| Deferred revenue    | 10,257,874 | 10,518,614   | 11,487,947   |

Functional allocation of expenses: The costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the schedule of functional expenses. Accordingly, salaries, related benefits costs and certain other costs have been allocated to programs and supporting activities based upon the level of effort by employees.

Use of estimates: The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income taxes: The academy is organized as a nonprofit corporation and has been recognized by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as exempt from federal income taxes under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(a) as an organization described in IRC Section 501(c)(6). The Academy is annually required to file a Return of Organization Exempt form Income Tax (Form 990) with the IRS. In addition, the Academy is subject to income tax on net income that is derived from business activities that are unrelated to its exempt purpose. We have determined that the Academy had no net unrelated business income and, accordingly, no provision for income taxes is recorded in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. The Academy has filed an Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return (Form 990-T) with the IRS. The PAC is an organization exempt from income taxes under the provisions of Section 527(a) of the IRC.

Reclassifications: Certain 2023 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2024 presentation. There were no changes to consolidated net assets or consolidated changes in net assets as a result.

Subsequent events: The Organization has evaluated subsequent events through May 5, 2025, the date on which the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 2. Fair Value Measurements

The Academy uses the following prioritized input levels to measure fair value of financial instruments. The input levels used for valuing investments are not necessarily an indication of risk.

- Level 1: Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets, such as stock quotes.
- Level 2: Includes inputs other than Level 1 inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace, such as yield curves, other market data, or by using a market approach from pricing sources utilized by investment managers.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs which reflect the reporting entity's assessment of the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability including assumptions about risk, such as bid/ask spreads and liquidity discounts.

Investments using Level 1 inputs consist of equities which are valued based on quoted market prices at the reporting date for those investments in active markets. Additionally, investments in mutual funds are valued at the last sales price or, if there is no sale and the market is still considered active, at the last transaction price before year-end.

Investments using Level 2 inputs consist of accelerated return notes which are valued based on pricing models which use a number of variables to value to the notes.

Deferred compensation liability is based on observable inputs of the related assets and classified within Level 2 of the valuation hierarchy.

Investments and deferred compensation liability are measured at fair value at December 31, 2024, using the following input levels:
