When State law does not require “supervision”...

- > 10 states and the District of Columbia use terms other than supervision
 - Several states use “collaboration”
 - Michigan uses “participating physician”
- At least one state (North Dakota) has no defined relationship between a PA and physician
- Medicare has new policy that largely defers to state law on how PAs practice with physicians and other members of the health care team

When State law does not require “supervision” ...

“We believe that, in the absence of state law, if there is documentation at the practice which demonstrates the working relationship that PAs have with physicians in furnishing their professional services, then this would be adequate to ensure that the statutory requirement for PA physician supervision is met.”

Attorney McSwain announced these charges as part of a press conference held today to highlight the Eastern District

“Healthcare providers who ignore their Hippocratic oaths and put illegal prescription drugs on our streets are nothing more than drug dealers in white lab coats,” said Maureen R. Dixon, Special Agent in Charge of the Philadelphia Regional Office of the Inspector General for the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS-OIG). “Medical providers who disregard the law and put greed in front of helping patients can expect criminal repercussions.”

Staten Island Physician's Assistant Sentenced In Manhattan Federal Court To 11 Years In Prison For Massive Oxycodone Distribution Conspiracy

Preet Bharara, the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, announced today that LEONARD MARCHETTA, a physician's assistant, was sentenced in Manhattan federal court to 11 years in prison for conspiring to distribute large doses of oxycodone, typically 150 30-milligram tablets. MARCHETTA also received a separate clinic. MARCHETTA received a fee of approximately $500 in cash for each medically unnecessary oxycodone prescription he issued. Whistle-blower files suit over alleged double-booked surgeries

by Jonathan Saltzman and Todd Wallack Boston Globe

Orthopedic surgeons at Massachusetts General Hospital repeatedly kept patients waiting under anesthesia longer — sometimes more than an hour longer — than was medically necessary or safe, as they juggled two or even three simultaneous operations, according to a federal lawsuit that alleges frequent billing fraud at the prestigious hospital.

Dr. Lisa Wollman, a former anesthesiologist at Mass. General, alleges in the lawsuit that at least five surgeons endangered patients by regularly performing simultaneous surgeries. Wollman charges that the doctors also defrauded the government by submitting bills for surgeries in which they were not in the operating room for critical portions of procedures, leaving the work to unsupervised trainees.

- Physician must certify

I understand that § 1842(b)(7)(D) of the Act (follow the link and select the applicable title) generally prohibits Medicare physician fee schedule payment for the services of assistants at surgery in teaching hospitals when qualified residents are available to furnish such services. I certify that the services for which payment is claimed were medically necessary and that no qualified resident was available to perform the services. I further understand that these services are subject to post-payment review by the A/B MAC (B).

Duke University Health System, Inc. Agrees To Pay $1 Million For Alleged False Claims Submitted To Federal Health Care Programs

Department of Justice March 21, 2014

Duke University Health System allegedly made false claims to Medicare, Medicaid, and TRICARE by (1) billing the government for services provided by physician assistants (PA's) during coronary artery bypass surgeries when the PA's were acting as surgical assistants (along with graduate medical trainees), which is not allowed under government regulations and (2) increasing billing by unbundling claims when the unbundling was not appropriate, specifically in connection with cardiac and anesthesia services.

U.S. attorney investigating DMC over possible federal anti-kickback violations

by Jay Greene Crain's Detroit Business

... termination of the employment of 14 nurse practitioners and physician assistants was due, in part, to the company's concerns that their prior employment did not comply with the Anti-kickback Statute, the Stark law and False Claims Act.

... services the NPs and PAs were delivering to private doctors might run afoul of federal laws designed to prevent improper patient referrals to the hospital.

... blatant violations would be a hospital paying fees for admissions or services, but could also include offering doctors office leases at below market value, or free or discounted services like advanced-practice providers' coverage of private doctors' patients.

Chicago Hospital Scam Had “Kickback on Steroids”, Jury Told

by Lance Duroni
Law 360

. . . Assistant U.S. Attorney Ryan Hedges walked the jury through . . . how the hospital cloaked illegal payments to doctors.

. . . the defendants took the conspiracy to a “whole new level” when they began loaning out mid-level medical professionals, including physician assistants and nurse practitioners, to doctors free-of-charge in return for patients, Hedges said, calling the maneuver “kickbacks on steroids”.
