

Ms. Reyes is the Health Programs Coordinator for League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), the oldest and largest grassroots Latino civil rights organization in the United States. In 2019, she was one of three Education and Youth Programs interns for LULAC. She joined LULAC in June 2021. She oversees the health programs surrounding obesity, tobacco-free youth, vaccine information and the All of Us Research Program.

As an undergraduate student, she was involved in advocacy student groups on campus focused on advocating for immigrant rights. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic she has been an active member in a local mutual aid group, Audelia Community Response Team, that is dedicated to serving mixed-status and at-risk families in Prince George's County and Montgomery County. She managed the hotline and would take down the information of families seeking food and other essential goods (diapers, medicine, mask, etc.) in her community. Furthermore, she managed a team of volunteers to book vaccination appointments for Spanish-speaking families for the pop-up COVID-19 vaccination clinics in Langley Park and Silver Spring (communities disproportionately affected by COVID-19). She also managed a team of volunteers on site at the clinic to help assist families in registering and translating consent forms. She is dedicated to advocating for health justice and racial equity issues.
