

A How-To Guide in Obtaining a PA Week Proclamation

Overview

A proclamation is a formal public announcement or declaration made by officials to commend individuals or to announce upcoming events or celebrations. PA Week is the perfect opportunity to solicit a proclamation to honor and recognize the contributions of the PA workforce in your practice, facility, state, or community. To help your organization secure a proclamation and maximize its impact, we've created the following resources:

- Guidance for how to obtain a proclamation;
- A sample proclamation;
- A template press release; and
- Tips for follow up and promotion.

Obtaining a Proclamation

1. Identify the best person/office to approach for the proclamation. If time allows, getting multiple proclamations from your employer, the city council, a state representative, and even your federal congressperson can be impressive and garner awareness for PAs and PA Week.
2. Contact the official's office to request the proclamation. Be sure to check that person's website for instructions on how to submit a formal request, as there may be an online form or instructions on what information must be included in a letter. Plan in advance to allow enough time to process.
3. Use the sample proclamation. Create a draft proclamation using the sample below. Add your local information and the date on which you would like the proclamation issued. Remember that the official's office may change some language.
4. Meet with the official for the signing of the proclamation. You can likely be in the room when the proclamation is signed, and the official may let you take a group photo once it's signed. Be prepared to take your own photo or hire a photographer and obtain permission to use the photo to promote PA Week. If you are unable to take a photo with the official, make sure to take one with members of your constituent organization or facility PAs. Then, don't forget to share it with AAPA!

Following up: Saying thank you can build relationships

After receiving the proclamation and photo of the signing ceremony (if provided by the official), remember to acknowledge the official by saying thank you. This can be done in one of several ways:

- Provide official with a framed picture of the group at the proclamation signing.
- Send a thank you note along with the picture of the group at the proclamation signing.

Promoting a proclamation

- Identify local newspapers throughout the state and submit press release with photo.
 - If the article is picked up by the newspaper, note this information on your constituent organization's website along with copy of newspaper article.
- Post photo and story on your organization's Facebook page and/or Twitter and Instagram using hashtags #PAWeek and #PAsAreEssential.
- Include photo and story in constituent organization newsletters.
- Share any media coverage of proclamation with key legislators and use as an opportunity to introduce the official to the mission and work of the constituent organization while discussing PA issues.
- Use the publicity created through the proclamation as an element of the constituent organization's value to members when creating annual membership renewal and recruitment materials.
- Notify the governor or official's office that your organization plans to distribute a press release about the proclamation and ask if they would be willing to provide a quote.
